Do you have young children and families in your life? Then you should know about the West Sacramento Home Run. In 2016, West Sacramento voters approved Measure E, a ballot measure that established a 0.25% sales tax to fund improved city services and support local families and businesses. One of Measure E’s key initiatives is the West Sacramento Home Run, a comprehensive “cradle-to-career” program that provides guidance and financial incentives to help families equip their children for academic and professional success while strengthening West Sacramento’s workforce.

The Home Run includes three segments:
• 1st Base: Quality preschool and a College Savings Account
• 2nd Base: Paid internships and digital badges
• 3rd Base: The West Sacramento Promise and college scholarships

So, what can West Sacramento seniors do? If you know a young family, encourage them to look for the “Home Run Certified Preschool” sign when they enroll in preschool, or ask the teacher about it. Urge any high schoolers you know to apply for Home Run paid internships. Be sure your favorite graduating high school seniors know about free community college through the West Sacramento Promise.

The West Sacramento Home Run is meant to strengthen our workforce and make it easier for families to prepare for college and careers. For more information, call (916) 617-4500 or visit https://wshomerun.com/.
